ARE ALL EYES

DEFECTIVE?

Certain it is that many people experience no trouble with their eyes Naturally a very large proportion of those who consult opticians or oculists have defective eyes, because the trouble they have leads them to the consultation.

There have been quite a number of people in to see me of late who have nothing at all the matter with their eyes.

If you have any doubt as to the condition of your eyes it will afford you a great deal of satisfaction to know positively. I shall be glad to tell you.

DIGGING OUT OF THE SNOW.

Twenty Thousand Sheep Perished In Montana

NUMBER OF HUMAN LIVES LOST

The Snow in Drifts is Ten to Twelve Feet Deep--On a Dead Level it is Three Feet.

By Wire to THE TELEGRAM.

Chicago, Oct. 23—A despatch from Helena, Mont., says the northern part of that state is digging itself out of the snow. For four or five days last week it snowed almost incessantly. It is now ten to twelve feet deep in drifts and about three feet on a dead level.

The bodies of eight sheep herders have been found in one county and fifteen others are missing. Twenty thousand sheep in the same county have perished.

It is believed the loss of life has been heavy, and it may be some days before all are discovered.

DEAD BY THE TRACK.

A Suspicion of Foul Play--Railroad Employe the Victim.

Special to The Telegram.

Reidsville, Oct. 23—Esau Holderby, a section hand on the Southern Railway, was found dead just outside the corporate limits of the town yesterday morning. His body was lying beside the railroad track, had been struck by the train and was badly mangled. Beside the corpse was a sack of corn and an axe. It is supposed that he was killed early Saturday night.

There is a suspicion in the minds of many that he was killed and placed on the track. He had been employed by the railroad people for a number of years and was a steady, hard working darkey. As it was just after pay day on the road, it is thought that he was killed and robbed.

Nine Cases From Guilford.

The supreme court of North Carolina will take up the cases from this (the fifth) district tomorrow morning Superior Court Clerk Nelson tells us that nine cases from Guilford county have been sent up to the higher court. Nearly all of Greensboro's attorneys will be in Raleigh this week to argue these cases.

Solicitor A. L. Brooks, Maj Chas. Stedman, R R. King, Col. John N. Staples and Gen. John A. Barringer left on the eastbound train this afternoon to appear before supreme court

Overcoat Lost.

Mr. Geo. Yelverton, of Oak Ridge, while in the city Saturday, lost his overcoat, he thinks, somewhere between the McAdoo and Vanstory's stables. He will pay a liberal reward for the return of the coat to the McAdoo. The coat has on the collar "H. Weil & Bro., Goldsboro, N. C."

THE GATE CITY BAND.

Words of Appreciation and Encouragement to Them.

All Greensboro is proud, or should be, of the Gate City Band, and should encourage them in every possible way. Manager Fowler has received the following letter from Hon. A. M. Scales, which, by permission, we print:

Greensboro, N. C., Oct. 21, 1890.

Mr. J. G. Fowler,
Manager Gate City Band,
Greensboro, N. C.

Dear Sir—I have had the pleasure of hearing the Gate City Band on several occasions, and as a citizen of Greensboro I feel proud of the organization. I wish to take this opportunity of congratulating the members on their fine appearance, manly bearing and excellent music, and feel sure that your organization will be a most useful one to our growing city—in fact I do not see how we could have gotten along without a good band.

Your concert of welcome to the young ladies of the Normal College was a most graceful act and proved that your members are both gallant and patriotic.

I trust I may have the pleasure of making a small contribution toward your equipment, and for that purpose enclose you herewith my check for $5.00. Yours very truly,

A. M. Scales.

POPULAR ENTERTAINMENT

Course at the State Normal and Industrial College.

Secure your tickets before Thursday night to this popular course of entertainments, which will consist of entertaining lectures on live subjects by able lecturers and of other attractions.

On Thursday night, October 26th, Prof J. A. Holmes, State Geologist, will lecture on "The Yellowstone National Park, the Yosemite Valley, and the Grand Canon," illustrating the lecture with the finest stereopticon views.

On November 14th, Dr. Conwell, a famous lecturer of Philadelphia, will deliver his lecture on "Acres of Diamonds."

In December, Dr. Claribel Cone, a noted physician of Baltimore, will deliver the third lecture in the series.

In the month of February, Max O'Rell, one of the greatest of living humorists, will lecture on "Her Highness, Woman"

A ticket to the entire course will cost $2 00. It is transferable, and may be secured at the College in person or by 'phone. Students and former students of the College may secure non-transferable tickets for the entire course at $1 00

THE PLAYFUL MONKEY

Gets in Some Effective Work on Its Keeper's Fingers.

A white man was bitten on the hand by a large monkey at passenger depot Sunday morning. He was the keeper of the animal, which belonged to one of the side shows bound for the horse show and county fair at Winston. He had been teasing his charge for quite a while, until at last patience ceased to be a virtue and the monkey snapped at the man, caught two of his fingers in its mouth and proceeded to chew. The man finally succeeded in freeing himself and Dr. J. P. Turner dressed his wounds, which are not considered serious The wounded man remained in the city all day and went on to Winston last night

If he attempts to torment his pet again it would be wise for him to stay at a safe distance, or he might receive another bite that would be a lesson. Trainers say that they teach their animals to perform by being kind and gentle to them, and no doubt this man should adopt the same plan.

Will Leave Tomorrow Morning.

The Gate City Band, which has been engaged to take part in the grand opening parade at the horse show at Winston tomorrow, will leave on the 8:25 train in the morning. General J. S. Carr, the chief marshall, will also go to Winston on the same train and will be escorted from the depot to the Phoenix hotel by the above named aggregation, which, we are informed, will head the procession. The band has been organized only since May 1st, but has made such rapid progress that it is now one of the leading musical organizations in the state, and we are sure that the boys will appreciate the honor of being placed at the head of the procession.

THE SECOND ATTACK FAILS.

Said That Kruger Favors Unconditional Surrender.

SENSATIONAL RUMORS AFLOAT.

The Battery of the Boers Ineffective and Silenced by the British.

Number of Officers Killed.

By Wire to THE TELEGRAM.

New York, Oct. 23—A Journal special says:

Another brilliant victory over the Boers is reported today. Joubert led the northern column and arrived too late to join in the first attack, but as soon as he reached the camp he opened battle The Boer artillery began to fight but wretchedly served and did little execution. The British guns replied quickly and silenced the batteries. Then the British made another charge and the Boers broke and fled. The British cavalry are now in pursuit of the enemy.

NUMBER OF OFFICERS KILLED.

By Cable to the TELEGRAM.

London, Oct 23—General White notifies the war office that the Boers suffered a number of casualities among high officers in the fight at Elandslaagte. General Viljaen was killed; General Kook wounded and taken prisoner, his son was taken prisoner; Colonel Schiel, a German officer in charge of the artillery, was wounded and taken prisoner; General Pretorius was wounded and captured and several Boer standards captured.

SENSATIONAL REPORTS

London, Oct. 23—The Dalzell news agency has received two sensational despatches from Cape Town. One of these dispatches says the Boers were badly defeated in their second attack on Glencoe. The second contains Pretoria advices to the effect that President Kruger favors unconditional surrender and that a meeting of the executive council will be called tomorrow to consider it.

The British loss at Elandslaagte were: One officer killed and twenty-one wounded; seventeen men killed, and ninety-nine wounded; one missing.

Cape Town, Oct 23.—The Boer losses at Elandslaagte are estimated at five hundred. The Boers are reported as utterly routed in the second attack on Glencoe.

SYMONDS NOT DEAD.

Petersnaritzburg, Oct. 23—Instead of being dead, as reported Saturday night, it was stated yesterday that General Symonds was only wounded at Glencoe, and is reported as doing well.

THE ATTACK FAILS.

Ladysmith, Oct. 23—The second attack on Glencoe has failed. The Boers artillery was ineffective and were silenced. The British made another sortie and are now engaged with the enemy.

LARGE BOER COMMAND.

Durban, Oct 23—A large Boer command is marching toward Helmoth and Zululand.

A DELAYED REPORT.

Glencoe Camp, Oct. 22—Delayed—The attack on the Boers under General Myers enabled the British to score another brilliant success. The Boers were driven pell mell over the plains, losing over three hundred killed and wounded Several hundred horses and army prisoners were captured. The Boer hospital was taken under the wings of the British hospital corps as the Boers had only one simple doctor with a primative staff and was quite unable to care for the wounded.

THIRTY HORSES BURNED.

Hathaway's Mammoth Stables at Wakefield Destroyed

By Wire to THE TELEGRAM.

Wakefield, Mass., Oct. 23—Hathaway's mammoth stables, including thirty horses and a number of vehicles, were burned today. An engine house in the Perkins block, Porter's laundry and seven dwellings were also destroyed. The fire departments of Malone, Melrose and Reading helped to extinguish the flames.

Italian Priests Scarce.

By Cable to THE TELEGRAM

Rome, Oct. 23—The Vatican is impressed with the complaints from American Catholics of the scarcity of Italian priests to look after the Italian emigrants. The Pope will take steps to remedy the trouble.

A Scrap in Luzon.

By Cable to the Telegram

Manila, Oct. 23—Lieutenant Ferguson, of the Thirty-sixth Infantry, with a scouting party of twenty, had two fights yesterday in which he killed six of the enemy and captured eight. He also captured ten rifles. There were no American losses.

Shamrock Fairly Beaten

By Cable to THE TELEGRAM

London, Oct. 21—The newspapers concur in declaring the Shamrock fairly beaten, but are unable to decide whether the Columbia's victory was due to superior American seamanship or boat construction.

NOTES FROM HIGH POINT.

The Local News From Our Neighbor Briefly Told.

TELEGRAM BUREAU,
HIGH POINT, N. C., Oct. 23

Sebon Perry, of the Southern, spent yesterday here.

Chas. Lindsey came up from Greensboro last evening.

J. P. Garner spent yesterday in Greensboro on a pleasant mission.

Two of High Point's youthful citizens will be married next Wednesday, October 25.

The new fence around the Jarrell hotel property adds to the looks of the place.

W. C. Bain, of Greensboro, was here Saturday night enroute home from Pinehurst.

W. R. Richardson came up from Greensboro Saturday night and went out to his home near here.

A telegram received from W. G. Brockaw states that he has postponed his trip to Fair View for several weeks.

Mrs. J. L. Charles, sister-in-law of R. C. Charles, of this city, is suffering from typhoid fever at her home at Deep River.

"A Jay from Jaysville" has come to town and will hold the boards at the opera house tonight. The show will be good. Go out.

"Wusser" Parker came over from Guilford College Saturday and spent Sunday at his home here He is "wusser" on the football question.

A good crowd was present at both services in the Presbyterian church yesterday, which were conducted by Rev. Wharton, a missionary to Cuba

Died, the five-weeks old infant of Mr. and Mrs John Cecil, at the home of its parents on College street yesterday morning. The interment took place in High Point cemetery this morning.

By all means don't forget the grand old hot time cake walk at the Anchor warehouse tomorrow night. The Greensboro string band, (colored) will add to the hilarity of the occasion. Admission fee small.

Mrs. W. D. Stroud died of liver trouble at her home on Mangum avenue in this city Saturday afternoon at two o'clock. Her remains were carried to Elmwood Sunday morning on the early train for interment.

Richard T. Wyche, the story teller, occupied the pulpit at the M E. church last evening. He chose for his subject "Once upon a time," and for thirty minutes held the undivided attention of his audience. The beautiful Bible story of the life of Joseph which he related in child-like simplicity was "a gem of the purest ray serene," highly interesting, instructive and inspiring to those who love the beautiful and the good. Suffice it to say that his talk was well delivered to an an appreciative congregation.

Mrs. B Frank Sullivan died at her home at Deep River yesterday afternoon at half past two o'clock, after an illness of several weeks. She had a liver trouble. Her husband died about five months ago. Five children are left to mourn their loss. Funeral services occurred at Deep River church this afternoon, conducted by Rev. Albert Peele, of the Friends' church, of which church she was a member, and her remains interred in the cemetary there. Deceased was a cousin of Mrs. Donahue Smith, of this city.

Saturday Night's Attraction:

"A Jay From Jaysville, three-act rural comedy, was presented at the academy of music Saturday night to a fair sized audience. The play was full of fun and the specialties were well rendered and well received. Special mention should be made of the trick bicycle rider who delighted the audience with some of his fancy riding. The play, however, is practically the same as "Down on the Farm" and the "Bowery Waif," which were presented in this city last season. The company's orchestra furnished excellent music.

Colored Musicians Wanted.

Lieutenant Douglas Settle has received orders from the war department to enlist colored musicians for the Forty-ninth infantry, which is being made up at Jefferson Barracks, Mo. Anyone wishing to enlist will please call at the local recruiting office for particulars. The recruiting office is still open for business. Clerk Stroud says all of the volunteer regiments, except the Forty ninth, have been filled and that he is now enlisting recruits for this regiment and also for the regular army.

Out of Danger.

Ben Jennings, who was shot about four weeks ago by Ben Wilkerson at the latter's still, two miles southwest of the city, is now out of danger and is gradually improving. He is able to walk around the house and his appetite is good.

Coming to North Carolina.

Dr. J. C. Stokes, resident surgeon at Johns Hopkins Hospital, has resigned his position and is coming to North Carolina to locate at Salisbury. He will associate himself with Dr. Long in the hospital there. We welcome him to the Tar Heel State.

ATLANTA IS DISAPPOINTED

Dewey's Engagement Cancelled by Physician's Advice.

THERE'S A "VERY PRETTY GIRL"

Going to Make Her Debut in Washington Before Long—Other Washington Gossip.

Special to THE TELEGRAM.

Washington, Oct 23—Representative Hawley, the only republican member of the house of representatives from the state of Texas, and one of the few republican leaders in congress from the southern section, arrived in the city Saturday. He has taken apartments at the Oxford Hotel, where he will make his headquarters during the coming session of congress with his wife and daughter. Miss Hawley will, during the coming winter, make her debut in Washington society, and the event is looked forward to with interest. She is said to be a very pretty pretty girl, and has the faculty of making friends. She has not yet appeared in Washington society, and this will be her first appearance in Washington. Mr. Hawley since his entrance in congress has been looked upon as the republican leader in the south, and his position upon the river and harbor committee has strengthened his position. His influence in matters of legislation during the next congress will doubtless be increased by the experience he has gained during his membership in the last two congresses.

Mr. Hawley was seen the other day and he says that the political and business outlook, from a republican standpoint in the southern states and particularly in Texas, are very good. In his own state he says there is a decided sentiment in favor of expansion, and that McKinley has given general satisfaction. He also says that there has always been a protective sentiment in the state among the sheep growers, which he believes would be worth the while of the republican party to cultivate. He does not hope, however, for any perceptible increase in the republican vote in the state in the near future, as the people are too closely devoted to the silver idea, he says.

Mr. Hawley will return South again before the meeting of congress in December. He will leave here after seeing his wife and daughter comfortably located for the winter. Mr. Hawley thinks that the next session of congress will be an important one. He looks for legislation concerning the Phillippines, Porto Rico, Cuba, and the Hawaiian Islands, and also for some kind of financial legislation. He thinks congress will deal liberally with the South, and that important legislation will be enacted concerning the Nicaragua Canal, and also the improvements desired and necessary in the waterways of the Southern States.

The decision of Admiral Dewey to cancel his engagement to visit Atlanta was a sore disappointment to the Atlanta people. His decision was unavoidable, being under the strict orders of his physician, who found that the strain upon him was becoming too severe. It is also a disappointment to other cities in the South, who have been wishing his presence, or at least of an opportunity to greet him as he passed through their towns. It is still hoped that the admiral may find an opportunity to visit the South, and it is not improbable that he will do so during the spring. He will certainly do so if his health will permit. If he goes South at that time he will visit Charleston, S. C., Atlanta Macon and Savannah, but it is doubtful if he will now be prevailed upon to extend his trip beyond those few cities.

At the Hotel Everett it was stated Sunday that the health of the admiral is good, and that there is nothing in his declination of the invitations to cause alarm. He is simply overworked from the severe mental and physical strain to which he has been subjected for the past year or more.

There will be several candidates to succeed Congressman Rixey in the next house of representatives. From all over the district there are ambitious aspirants for national honors. Among the candidates for the democratic nomination, in addition to Congressman Rixey, are likely to be Messrs. Hume, Willard, Speaker Ryan and Mr. Donahoe. The latter is the democratic nominee for the house of delegates from Fairfax county.

Gen. Lee, it is announced, will be home about the first of next month. Mrs. Lee is now visiting friends at Alexandria, Va. It is stated that the general will probably come north by way of Florida, by rail. He will have a two week's furlough.

It is not thought President McKinley will attend the launching of the Subrick, at Richmond. Secretary Long, however, and some other of the naval officials will doubtless be present at the launching Secretary Long says he will certainly go if he is able to do so.

A. W. Caple and sister, Miss Blanch Caple, and the Misses Irva and Alice Smitherson, and Mr L Moffitt, of Asheboro, N. C., are at the Metropolitan for a few days They are in Washington on a pleasure visit.

R. H. Pettis and the Misses Lila and Elvia Bell, also of North Carolina, are at the National Hotel.

Ladies who would like to see the best looking, best fitting, and longest lasting shoes ever sold in this city at two dollars should call at Thacker & Brockmann's and examine the new special line just put on sale there.

FAIR GAMBLING.

The following paragraph is from the News and Observer:

The fair authorities ought next year to exert themselves to provide plenty of amusements for the people who visit the fair. The showman who told Thomas Gradgrind that "the people muth be amuthed" understood human nature. In vanity fair there must be all sorts of things to see from the big pumpkin down to the performing monkey. There is no room at the fair, however, for gambling, indecent shows or anything that robs men of their money or appeals to the worst that is in them. The rigid exclusion at all times of such things is right and is essential to the true success of the fair.

Verily, it would seem that the world is getting better. For upwards of fifteen years we have been attending the state fairs at Raleigh and gambling devices have been plentiful. In some instances the authorities were appealed to by people who had been robbed and no relief offered. The fakirs were evidently looked upon as "necessary attractions."

The statement that "the people like to be humbugged" does not apply to everything. We agree with our contemporary that the fair authorities ought next year to provide plenty of amusements, innocent amusements, but the gambling fakir and his alluring devices, along with the indecent show business, must go. Sentiment is crystallizing against such things. Decent people are no longer deceived by them, and it is the decent element that must be looked after. Toughs can find gambling dens in their proper sphere—where decency and honesty never goes. Let them seek the slums where they belong, and let the state fair be put on a higher plane, where our best people can go and enjoy themselves without danger of going away with a soiled conscience.

Three cheers for B. B. B.—Battle, Broughton and Bailey, who have taken the initiative in this reform.

The will of the late A. F. Page was admitted to probate in Raleigh Saturday. His estate was worth over a quarter of a million, about $200,000 being given to his children before his death. The residue, about $60,000, is covered by the will. His grandchildren are given $5,000 in bank stock, the Methodist orphanage gets the academy of music, or $5,500 in cash, and the widow gets about $50,000. Mr. Page's life is a worthy example of industry and good business judgment. He began life a poor man, in the piney woods of Moore county, and wound up the owner of railroads and a handsome fortune. Not only this, but he leaves an untarnished name, which alone is a shining legacy.

A nervy town is Atlanta. She is the first in the south in everything. Every town in the south wants to see Dewey and entertain him. Atlanta not only wanted to see him, but she got up and hustled to get him there. She succeeded far enough to secure an engagement with him by sending to Washington after him. But now it turns out that Dewey cannot go. His doctor says such a trip threatens bad results to the admiral's health. That is too bad. But the Atlanta fair will go on just the same. The statue of the immortal Grady, standing in the center of Marietta street, will not change its expression, because of the absence of Dewey. No more will Atlanta show her disappointment.

The claim that city markets should be rigidly inspected is backed up by the statement that within the past few months the keeper of the Raleigh market has seized many specimens of spoiled meats. Only Saturday he seized a lot of chickens sick with cholera, that were offered for sale, along with a pan of spoiled sausage meat. The matter of pure food should receive closer attention everywhere.

It is a pity that Dewey's doctor wont let him rip around over the country. That doctor will seriously interfere with the admiral's boom, if he is not careful. Imagine Bryan being held up on such a pretext! The bigger the crowds and the more the excitement the better for him.

In view of the trouble in getting the yacht races started, on account of a lack of wind, we suggest that the next races be pulled off in the lake, as near Chicago as possible.

Hail, Columbia! She is truly a gem of the ocean. The Shamrock can't run, hardly. Let somebody build a boat that can keep in sight, or call the races off. Sir Thomas Lipton, the Shamrock's owner, is a royal good fellow, and made many friends during his stay in American waters, but his boat, well, he deserves a better one.

And now for Winston! This is horse show week there and it will be a hummer. Winston is a "warm number" and is full of hustling people. They will do all that is necessary on their part. The weather now seems highly propitious and if it continues the railroads and the people will do the rest.

It is now announced by the Associated Press that the German newspapers are just as unanimously anti British as they were anti-American in the war between the United States and Spain. Well, if they cut no more ice now than they did then, the British need not lose any sleep over it.

The Durham Sun prints an interview with President Kilgo, of Trinity College, from which we make an extract (printed elsewhere), in answer to a question as to the Doctor's observations as to co-education at Trinity College. It is well worth the attention of every friend of co-education.

Three cheers for Bill Osborne, the man whom Bill Day says has wrought so many reforms in so short a time at the penitentiary and on the state farms! Col. Osborne is the proper man to be made suderinteudent of the penitentiary.

DEPARTMENT OF MUSIC.

BY J. W. TILLINGHAST.

[All communications intended for this department should be sent to J. W. Tillinghast, 415 Eugene street.

All notices for publication should be handed in not later than 9 o'clock Monday.]

Last week we discussed the matter of music in the schools. Not exhaustively, but we touched on its relation to the musical atmosphere. Today I wish to emphasize another need, but I am going to "keep at" the school music idea because I consider it the great vantage point, from which all other points may be reached. I will recur to it from time to time and I hope to get the people interested in it. By "the people" I don't mean simply the musicians, but all the people who have children to educate.

Today let us consider another matter of importance to the musical growth—a matter which concerns Greensboro no more than it does the other towns of the state, because it refers to a condition that is common to them all. I speak of the condition of church music.

The necessity for music in the churches furnishes by far the greatest incentive to regular musical work to be found in most small places. The choirs are not paid, they consist of singers who meet at least once a week—on Sundays—to sing, and sometimes between times, to practice, and they do it from motives that if encouraged and directed might lead to excellent musical results. As a matter of fact most church music (except when the congregation sings) is very poor. If the reason for this is worth investigating—in view of the fact that poor music is undesirable and amateurs have been known to produce good music—let us try to find it.

I believe that to those who have really studied the question one word will serve to explain the whole thing That word is—solo. All the choirs that I know that are doing poor work, or no work in churches where there is plenty of good choir material, can trace their decay and the various splits that have weakened them, to solo singing. The dignity of good chorus work is lost sight of almost entirely. The singing of hymns will do any old way. The solo is the thing—the emphatic thing—the thing that is to draw, or help draw, the congregation—and, incidentally, in time, to break up the choir.

Now there is nothing wrong in singing a solo in church and there is nothing unmusical about it, provided it is well selected—does not outrage one's sense of propriety by its unreligious character—and provided the conditions are right. But a solo has no place in a choir until the chorus singing of that choir has been worked down to a finish.

Chorus singing is the corner stone of the musical atmosphere of any town and a person's value should be guaged not so much by his ability to do things by himself as by his willingness to merge his personality, sometimes, into the making of a successful ensemble.

Solo singing has in most cases the tendency to cultivate the personal vanity of the singer and while personal vanity is more directly under the jurisdiction of the clergyman than the musician, it certainly makes a disagreeable adjunct to the chorus singer's equipment.

What we want is artistic chorus singing. The church choirs are our hope for getting it and if they are to be made successful they must make chorus work the features and then will people who love to sing for singing's sake and who can sing and make a a success of the chorus choir, take hold of the work.

I know at least one musician in the city who is making an earnest fight on this line and I believe that within six months I will be able to point to an evidence of the statements I have made in this article.

CO-EDUCATION AT TRINITY.

Extract from an Interview with President Kilgo.

The Durham Sun of Saturday contained a lengthy interview with Dr. Kilgo, from which we extract and print the following:

What are your observations as to co-education at Trinity College?

I do not consider Trinity in the fullest sense a co-educational institution, but rather a male college to which young women are admitted There is this distinction which we observe: In a co-educational institution provisions are made for all the distinct elements in the education of a young woman for her special work, as well as that of a young man in the sphere which he is to occupy; so that music, art, certain classes of literature, peculiar types of government, social environments, etc., must be arranged with consideration of necessities of both sexes.

At Trinity the standards, courses of study, type of work and discipline are all arranged with reference to the education of young men Women entering Trinity are required to meet all of these demands. They are under the same government, do the same class of work and have the same educational ideal of male schools.

I have always contended that our women should have the same educational advantages provided for men. A large number of colleges for young women have claimed standards equal to those in colleges for young men. But these have been mere claims. So when the opportunity was furnished to admit women to Trinity College, I was ready to seize it. However, I have never made great efforts to secure young women as students, preferring to have only those whose ambitions make them anxious to do a high class of work.

I expected this department of the College to grow slowly. It has, however, grown more rapidly than I anticipated. Of course many serious people yet doubt the wisdom of the policy. But after an experience of three years, I am prepared to say that a young woman can do as high class of work as a young man, provided she is under the same system of government. Her physical health must be looked after as strictly as that of young men. There must be freedom from all unnecessary and small restrictions.

The young women graduating from Trinity will create a new educated class of women in our State. Their mental horizons will be broad, and their attainments such as to make them leaders in all social and cultured circles One very noticeable effect of a young woman in the male college is the mental poise which becomes her. She is free from all those little nervous freaks that usually belong to the student life of young women. She goes to her work with a seriousness, and bears herself with a womanly dignity that greatly impresses every one.

I am indeed glad that Trinity has undertaken this work, and I believe ten years from to-day North Carolina will feel greatly indebted to Mr. Duke for furnishing its women this opportunity.

REV. S. A. DONAHOE

Testifies to the Good Qualities of Chamberlain's Cough Remedy.

On the 10th of December, 1897, Rev. S. A. Donahoe, pastor M. E. Church, South, Point Pleasant, W. Va., contracted a severe cold, which was attended from the beginning by violent coughing. He says: "After resorting to a number of so-called 'specifics,' usually kept in the house, to no purpose, I purchased a bottle of Chamberlain's Cough Remedy, which acted like a charm I most cheerfully recommend it to the public." For sale by C. E. Holton, Druggist.

Alexander Jester, charged with murdering Gilbert Gates, brother of John B. Gates, president of the Federal Steel Company, at Paris, Mo., has been remanded to jail without bail.

James Reed Injured.

Mr. James Reed struck his leg against a cake of ice in such a manner as to bruise it severely. It became very much swollen and pained him so badly that he could not walk without the aid of crutches. He was treated by physicians, also used several kinds of liniment and two and a half gallons of whiskey in bathing it, but nothing gave it any relief until he began using Chamberlain's Pain Balm. This brought almost a complete cure in a week's time and he believes that had he not used this remedy his leg would have had to be amputated. Mr. Reed is one of the leading merchants of Clay Court House, W. Va. Pain Balm is unequalled for sprains, bruises and rheumatism. For sale by C. E. Holton, Druggist.

First Lieutenant Ralph Ingalls, of the Forty-fourth Volunteers, a son of ex-Senator John J. Ingalls, has resigned his commission because of defective hearing.

You assume no risk when you buy Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy. C. E. Holton will refund your money if you are not satisfied after using it. It is every where admitted to be the most successful remedy in use for bowel camplaint and the only one that never fails. It is pleasant, safe and seliable.

VILLAINS IN NOVELS.

HOW SOME OF THE FAMOUS AUTHORS DISPOSE OF THEM.

Examples of the Grewsome Fates That Have Been Devised by the Writers of Fiction For Their Men and Women of Crime.

Dickens is responsible for a most entertaining gallery of rogues. Quilp (the distorted dwarf) and Rogue Riderhood (the ruffian) alike terminate their existence in a watery grave. Ralph Nickleby, Gashford and Jonas Chuzzlewit take their own lives, while Uriah Heep, Squeers and Littimer leave their country for their country's good in garbs gratuitously provided by government and freely embossed with "broad arrows."

Perhaps the most grewsome of Dickens' death scenes is that provided by the face of the ever smiling Carker, into which the irresistible locomotive is impressed, probably for the first time in the history of fiction.

Scott's villains most frequently meet with violent deaths at the hands of others, often their accomplices, or commit suicide on the eve of discovery and disgrace. But the sensation lover has nevertheless been catered for in the death of Anthony Foster, the accomplice of the poisoner Richard Varney. This miserable wretch is depicted as hiding from his pursuers in a secret cell. The entrance to this is fastened by means of a spring lock, of which, however, he omits to retain the key, with the consequence that he eventually perishes miserably of mingled fear and famine.

Lytton's "Night and Morning" gives us the coiner Gawtrey, who meets his fate at the hands of the Paris police, from whom he is attempting to escape when a pistol shot drops him over the side of a house to perish miserably. This idea of falling from a height is by no means confined to Lytton. It is utilized by Anthony Hope in "Phroso" and by Stanley Weyman in "Under the Red Robe," where the villain and his victim fall from a lofty bridge into a seething torrent below. In this way, too, Conan Doyle killed the immortal Sherlock Holmes, who, fast locked in a struggle with "the greatest villain of them all," falls over an Alpine precipice.

Wilkie Collins brings his principal villain, the double faced, calculating Count Fosco, to an ignoble end, he disappearing for a time, only to reappear upon the ghastly shelves of the Paris morgue. A still more ghastly fate is that of the she fiend, Gagool, immortalized by Rider Haggard in "King Solomon's Mines." Having conducted Quatermain, Curtis and party into that celebrated monarch's rock hewn treasury, which is guarded by a ponderous rising door of living rock, she touches a secret spring, by means of which the door begins once more to descend with a slow but irresistible motion.

While the Englishmen are sizing up the jewelry she makes off through the rapidly lessening aperture. Her progress is temporarily arrested by the unfortunate girl Foulata, whom she stabs in order to free herself. Hurriedly scrambling over the threshold, she is caught by the inexorable force which she has herself put in motion, and a realistically dramatic "scrunch" puts an end forever to the machinations of this truly horrible old woman.

Svengali, like Scott's Templar in "Ivanhoe," dies from an excessive mental strain acting upon the heart, while, to hark back to the days of the bluff Doctor of Fleet Street, the gentle, genial hearted Goldsmith is contented to reform the rakish Squire Thornhill in order that he may at last become the exemplary spouse of the gentle Olivia, around whom he wove that entrancingly simple narrative, "The Vicar of Wakefield."

Finally, the palm for "writing lurid" may fairly be accorded Harrison Ainsworth for his thrilling disposal of the two ghoulish wretches who haunt the pages of his celebrated novel, "Old Saint Paul's." The creatures who battened upon the spoils of the dead and dying during the great plague were wont to stow their ill gotten gains in one of the cathedral vaults. The cathedral taking fire, they hasten thither in order to rescue their precious hoard. The greed of gain, however, misleads them into sojourning just a moment too long.

As they turn to leave the now stifling vault they see that a thin silvery stream is making its way down the stairs, by which alone they can gain an exit. Even as they look it thickens perceptibly, and before they can escape the whole stairway is blocked, and the vault about them begins to fill with the silvery liquid. When it is added that the harmless looking fluid is nothing more or less than the molten lead from the roof and windows of the cathedral, it will become apparent that even Mr. Gilbert's "something with boiling oil in it" possesses a dangerous rival in the pages of "Old Saint Paul's."—London Standard.

The Cricket's Chirp.

The variation of speed in the chirping of crickets depends so closely on temperature that the height of the thermometer may be calculated by observing the number of chirps in a minute.

At 60 degrees F. the rate is 80 chirps a minute, at 70 degrees F. 120 per minute, and the rate increases four chirps to the minute with a change of one degree.

Below a temperature of 50 degrees F. the cricket is not likely to make any sound.

It is the business policy of the Provident Savings to give the assured their insurance at the lowest possible cost to them, instead of building up a monumental surplus, in which they do not participate, but for the possible benefit of those who never contribute to it.—The Journal of Commerce, New York City, August 21st, 1899.

No Cure—No Pay.

That is the way all druggists sell Grove's Tasteless Chill Tonic for Chills and Malaria. It is simply iron and quinine in a tasteless form. Children love it. Adults prefer it to bitter, nauseating tonics. Price, 50c.

No Fight to Ugliness.

The woman who is lovely in face, form and temper will always have friends, but one who would be attractive must keep her health. If she is weak, sickly and run down, she will be nervous and irritable If she has constipation or kidney trouble, her impure blood will cause pimples, blotches, skin eruptions and a wretched complexion. Electric bitters is the best medicine in the world to regulate stomach, liver and kidneys and to purify the blood. It gives strong nerves, bright eyes, smooth, velvety skin, rich complexion. It will make a good-looking charming woman of a run-down invalid. Only 50 cents at C. E Holton's drug store.

One Minute Cough Cure, cures

That is what it was made for.

She Snubbed a Lord.

The New York "swagger" set received a breezy sensation recently when one of the choicest young heiresses on the Avenue married an American, who earns his own living; while on the same date went sailing homeward a distinguished little princeling whose yard-long title rumor said had been placed entirely at her disposal. "Bless me" exclaimed her self-made father

"THEY PELT HER UNMERCIFULLY."

facetiously, "If this sort of thing keeps on we'll all be Americanized!"

There is something about the air of this country which inclines our women to act independently. A girl may try to wrap up her womanly instincts beneath a cloak of fashionable vanity, but the little love gods find out the weak spots in her armor and pelt her unmercifully. If she is a true American the chances are after all that nine times in ten she will marry the man she cares for. The vast majority of our young women seek no greater blessing than to be well-loved wives of strong-hearted men; and mothers of healthy, happy children.

The natural burdens of wifehood and motherhood have been amazingly lightened in the last thirty years. Advanced science has found a way to overcome the physical weakness of women and make them strong and capable of performing their wifely and motherly duties.

THE MODERN WOMAN'S OPPORTUNITY.

At the present day there is no need for any woman in this country to be weighed down and overburdened with physical weakness or disease. A woman suffering from any delicate ailment peculiar to her sex, no matter what the circumstances may be, may obtain such eminent professional advice and assistance as a queen could hardly command a generation ago. She can have all the advantages of that splendid American Institution, the World's Dispensary Medical Association of Buffalo, N. Y., with its staff of nearly twenty eminent specialists in the different branches of medical practice. At their head as chief consulting physician is Dr. R. V. Pierce, one of the most widely experienced physicians living. Any woman consulting him by mail and giving a careful statement of her case will receive sound professional advice and suggestion for home-treatment free of charge.

It is impossible to estimate the immense amount of suffering that weak and ailing women have been saved by Dr. Pierce's suggestions for home-treatment and the use of his matchless prescriptions. His "Favorite Prescription" has done more to promote the health and strength of women of our land than all other remedies combined. It is recognized throughout the world as the one greatest supportive tonic and special strengthener that has ever been devised for women.

It gives healing and power and endurance to the delicate special organism of women; imparts natural vitality and vigor to their entire nerve structure. It banishes abnormal and irregular conditions; stops unnatural drains; creates healthful capacity and stamina.

It prepares women for motherhood, carries them safely and comfortably through the ordeal; takes away all its dangers and nearly all its pain; promotes abundant, natural nourishment for the child and, through the favorable influence upon the mother, increases the little one's natural strength and hardihood.

Mrs. Betsey M. White, of Stoneycreek, Warren Co., N. Y., in a letter to Dr. Pierce says: "Your 'Favorite Prescription' has done wonders in our house. My son's wife had been for years a great sufferer; all broken down and very weak and nervous. She was troubled with all the pains and aches one so slender could endure. She took everything she heard of, hoping to get help, but in vain; so she tried Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription and it did wonders for her. The doctors said she could not live to have another child as she came near dying so many times. This spring she had a nice boy weighing eleven pounds; she got through before we could get any one there. I was afraid she would not live. We cried for joy when we saw how nicely she got along. May God bless you for the good you have done."

"A Grand Remedy," says Mr. Thornton.

"I have been suffering with indigestion and dyspepsia. I tried all the remedies as well as several eminent physicians without avail. I was induced to try Tyner's Dyspepsia Remedy and the first dose relieved me. It is a grand remedy. I recommend it as worthy of a trial by all who wish to be cured

OF

Book-keeping, Business and Ornamental Penmanship and Shorthand.

For Both Sexes.

READ CAREFULLY.

PROF. V. THEO. ELY,

(12 Years Experience in Teaching)

Graduate from Rochester Business University, Rochester, N. Y., will open up a select school in Both Double and Single Entry Book-keeping, Shorthand and Muscular Movement Business Writing, at the Brockmann School of Music Hall, beginning from 9 till 11 a. m., also a separate night school from 7:00 till 9:00 for those who cannot attend in day time. No extra tuition for combining both periods.

Tuition in both writing and book-keeping combined, full course, $10.00; writing alone, strictly slant, $3.00. Payable at the expiration of the term.

Success is guaranteed to all who attend regularly and apply themselves, or no charge will be made for tuition.

Term will continue until completed, which requires from six to eight weeks.

If you ever expect to learn book-keeping or to write a good hand, now is your time.

No tuition is paid till the term closes, and the term does not close till all have finished the book-keeping course, and each student is his own judge as to when he knows it.

This fact should be taken as sufficient guarantee of safety and success. Let the pupils attend regularly and we will be responsible for the rest. NO LESSONS TO STUDY AT HOME.

Stationery for full book-keeping course, including writing material, etc., not over 80 cents. Writing material, etc., furnished at the hall.

Hall will be kept warm and comfortable.

Why You Should Attend This School:

Because for $10.00 you get the same identical course in book-keeping and penmanship that you would get at any commercial college at from $150 to $250. Because you complete the course before you pay tuition. Because every subject is taught from the blackboard without the use of a text book. Because every other branch except book-keeping and writing, is excluded, making it possible to complete the course in from six to eight weeks.

Because we, the undersigned pupils, have just finished Prof. Ely's course in book-keeping and writing at Nicholson's Hall, Union, S. C., and freely testify to the fact that truly he offers a chance of a lifetime to learn these important branches of business education:

H. E. Mabry, W. C. Hames, Webster Gregory, W. H. West, W. C. Smith, J. O. Babb, F. C. Posey, J. T. Hawkins, James L. Hawkins, George Witherspoon, T. J. Betenbaugh (county supervisor), J. F. Powell, J. G. Farr.

UNION, S. C.

We take pleasure in saying that PROF. V. THEO. ELY has commended himself to us as a first-class gentleman in every sense of the word and worthy of anyone's confidence, both socially and professionally:

J. H. Hamilton, M. D.; F. B. Culp, Chief Police; J. G. Going, M. D; L. S. Townsend, Merchant; Geo. Munro, Cashier Merchants' and Planters' Bank; J. G. Farr, County Auditor; H. G. Bailey, Merchant; F. NO ALCOHOL NO WHISKEY NO OPIUM NO COCAINE — GOLDEN MEDICAL DISCOVERY

If a medal were awarded for the most perfect temperance medicine prepared for family use it would undoubtedly be given to Doctor Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery. This medicine which is entirely non-alcoholic and non-narcotic, produces actual strength, instead of the simulated strength which results from the use of "whiskey medicines," or nerve numbing narcotics.

The many and remarkable cures resulting from the use of "Golden Medical Discovery" prove the soundness of Dr. Pierce's theory that in these days of haste and hurry the stomach is the common breeding place of disease. These cures also prove the soundness of Dr. Pierce's reasoning that "diseases which originate in the stomach must be cured through the stomach." The "Discovery" is a medicine for the stomach and other organs of digestion and nutrition. When the stomach is healthy the blood made in the stomach is healthy, and sufficient in quantity to nourish the nerves and strengthen the system to resist or throw off disease. Nature develops life, sustains life and preserves life by nourishment. Vital failure comes when the body is starved either from lack of food or the inability of the digestive and nutritive organs to extract the nourishment from the food taken into the stomach. "Golden Medical Discovery" takes the obstacles from Nature's way so that she can sustain life by her own methods.

Dr. Pierce's Pleasant Pellets assist the action of "Golden Medical Discovery."

Auction Sale of Land.

Pursuant to a resolution passed by the Board of Aldermen of the city on the 27th day of September, 1899, which said resolution is as follows:

Be it resolved by the Board of Aldermen of the city of Greensboro, N. C., that the property on the corner of Gaston and Greene streets belonging to the city and known as the Barker lot, be sold at public auction on Saturday, the 28th day of October, 1899, at 12 o'clock noon, at the court house door in the city of Greensboro, and that the mayor be and he is hereby authorized to carry this resolution into effect and to make title to said property to the purchaser at said sale, and that the proceeds of said sale shall be used in part payment of a lot to be bought from the county commissioners of Guilford county. That the mayor is instructed to give notice of said sale in one or more newspapers published in said city for thirty days preceding the day of sale.

I will sell at public auction the said Barker lot on Saturday the 30th day of October 1899 at 12 o'clock noon, at the court house door in Greensboro, to the highest bidder.

MR. GROVER CLEVELAND.

A Word About the Original and a Word to the Nameskers.

We observe that a good many of the boys who were named Grover Cleveland in 1882 and 1884 are coming into the college and high schools now. All of them may feel that they will never have cause to be ashamed of their name. We do not hear much of Grover Cleveland these times, but he is yet a growing man. When the history of his two administrations is clearly and honestly written it will be understood by thoughtful people that he was one of the greatest and biggest Presidents this country has had; and the more there is known of him the bigger and greater he will be. His work was done with his pen and the finances of his country, but it demanded more nerve than Jackson needed in fighting the bank or Lincoln used in conducting the civil war, and it rescued this country from danger as it has ever been threatened with. Cleveland had the courage to defend these United States and in doing it to defy his own friends and party and the clamor and abuse of a mob extending from one ocean to the other.

We were glad to see Governor Shaw, of Iowa, a Republican, declare in a public speech the other day that this union crawled across one of the most serious crises in its history on the stiff back of Grover Cleveland. That is the truth, too.

Sonny, as you grow up, don't ever be afraid to write your name in full—"Grover Cleveland Jones"—and when you have a vote to announce yourself a Grover Cleveland democrat. He is the kind of a man we would like to see you all try to be—the kind of a man who believing a certain thing to be right sticks by it, sticks to it, no matter what powers or clamors or lies or dangers may assail him; who, believing that his duty is to do a thing, does it and goes right on doing it in the face of the very devil himself and regardless of personal consequences; who will stand by his country and his promise against his party, his friends, his enemies and all the combined powers of the earth.

That is the way to be a great man and to achieve great results. We fought the Spanish war successfully because our credit was unlimited, and our credit was unlimited because Grover Cleveland said that while there was an ounce of gold in the world this union would meet its obligations in gold on demand, and he fought it out steadily and sturdily on that line. Because of that same stubborn back of his the country is prosperous as it is today and most of you boys who are named for him are able to go to college and school.

The Grover Cleveland people are not heard of much in the newspapers and are not controlling Democratic politics now, but the woods are full of them, and if they could be marshaled they would be an enormous and impressive host.—Greenville, S. C., News.

Kicked Into Eternity.

Baltimore, Md., Oct. 21—The kicking of five horses in a stable under a rickety tenement house on Dover street tonight loosened the foundations, causing the building to fall

Joseph Scott, colored, his wife, mother, three children and two nieces, who were on the upper floors, were buried in bricks, mortar and timbers.

The two nieces were fatally injured. The rest of the family was badly hurt but will recover. Three horses were killed. The crash caused a panic in other negro tenement houses in the vicinity.

Because he was not allowed to call on Miss Kate Anderson, whom he loved, Carl Von Plewkiewiec killed himself at Owensboro, Ky.

His Life Was Saved.

Mr. J. E. Lilly, a prominent citizen of Hannibal, Mo., lately had a wonderful deliverance from death. In telling of it he says: "I was taken with typhoid fever that ran into pneumonia. My lungs became hardened. I was so weak I couldn't even sit up in bed. Nothing helped me. I expected to soon die of consumption, when I heard of Dr. King's New Discovery. One bottle gave great relief. I continued to use it, and now I am well and strong, I can't say too much in its praise." This marvellous medicine is the surest and quickest cure in the world for all throat and lung trouble. Regular size 50 cents and $1 00 Trial bottles free at C. E. Holton's drug store; every bottle guaranteed

It is the business policy of the Provident Savings to give the assured their insurance at the lowest possible cost to them, instead of building up a monumental surplus, in which they do not participate, but for the possible benefit of those who never contributed to it.--The Journal of Commerce, New York City, August 21st, 1899.

The Reason.

"If you scour the world you will never find a remedy equal to One Minute Cough Cure," says Editor Fackler, of the Micanopy, Fla., "Hustler." It cured his family of LaGrippe and saves thousands from pneumonia, bronchitis, croup and all throat and lung troubles. Howard Gardner.

STOPPED IN GREENSBORO

And Was Pleased With His Treatment at the McAdoo.

John A. M. Passmore, of Philadelphia, who is sojourning at Hot Springs, this state, writes an interesting letter to the West Chester Local News and tells of his journey. We make the following extract:

We enter North Carolina just beyond Danville, Va., passing through the northwest corner of Caswell county, through Rockingham county to Greensboro, the county seat of Guilford county.

Here we leave the train at 7:30 p m, 423 miles from Philadelphia. We were very tired, but getting into a bus were driven to the McAdoo House, Mr. Perkins, proprietor, where we were most courteously treated, had a good warm supper, good beds, and after a restful night's sleep and a most excellent breakfast at 7:37 a. m. were on the road again. I would advise anyone going to the Hot Springs to leave Philadelphia at 7:20 a. m., stay over night at Greensboro, N. C., staying at the McAdoo House and resuming their journey the next morning; thus they would see the scenery of the whole trip.

Wants Mr. McKinley's Opinion.

Correspondence Telegram.

Oak Ridge, N. C. October 21—A man here bought a piece of land from a Greensboro citizen the other day and found on the tract a renter with a family of three, wife son and daughter, who had refused to get off the premises. He now claims the said occupants as his and says they go with the land. He calls them his Filipinos, and has written President McKinley to know if he has not a right to hold them on the plea of purchase. If there is any rebellion it will be a question whether to send for part of Otis' army or placate the man as the Sultan of Tulu was placated. Anyhow the purchaser is indisposed to "haul down his flag" and claims to be the only man in the country besides McKinley who owns a Filipino.

Statesville Court Closes.

Marshal J. M. Millikan and Deputy J. M. Bailey returned yesterday from federal court at Statesville. Court closed Saturday evening. The case against D. L. Airy, charged with irregularities in his rectifying establishment at Salisbury, was dismissed. Several defendants were sent to jail by Judge Ewart for terms ranging from thirty days to four months. Marshal Millikan left this morning for Statesville to complete his work of paying witnesses and deputy marshals.

Baldness Can be Cured
just so long as there is a particle of vitality left in the hair roots. The fact that the head is smooth and shining is no positive proof that the roots beneath are dead.
Deep down beneath the skin, hair roots may yet exist, filled with latent vitality, and all that is required to develop them into a beautiful head of hair is the faithful application of the proper agents.
Seven Sutherland Sisters'
preparations furnish the easiest, surest and quickest way to ascertain if there is or is not latent life beneath a head bare of hair. Why not try them?

Foul-Smelling Catarrh.

Catarrh is one of the most obstinate diseases, and hence the most difficult to get rid of.

There is but one way to cure it. The disease is in the blood, and all the sprays, washes and inhaling mixtures in the world can have no permanent effect whatever upon it. Swift's Specific cures Catarrh permanently, for it is the only remedy which can reach the disease and force it from the blood.

Mr. B. P. McAllister, of Hardsburg, Ky., had Catarrh for years. He writes: "I could see no improvement whatever, though I was constantly treated with sprays and washes, and different inhaling remedies. In fact, I could feel that each winter I was worse than the year previous.

"Finally it was brought to my notice that Catarrh was a blood disease, and after thinking over the matter, I saw it was unreasonable to expect to be cured by remedies which only reached the surface. I then decided to try S. S. S., and after a few bottles were used, I noticed a perceptible improvement. Continuing the remedy, the disease was forced out of my system, and a complete cure was the result. I advise all who have this dreadful disease to abandon their local treatment, which has never done them any good, and take S. S. S., a remedy that can reach the disease and cure it."

To continue the wrong treatment for Catarrh is to continue to suffer. Swift's Specific is a real blood remedy, and cures obstinate, deep-seated diseases, which other remedies have no effect whatever upon. It promptly reaches Catarrh, and never fails to cure even the most aggravated cases.

S.S.S. For The Blood
Is Purely Vegetable, and is the only blood remedy guaranteed to contain no dangerous minerals.

Fearington and two daughters, Misses Faith and Elizabeth, passed through the city this morning enroute to Bynum's to visit his mother and attend the marriage of his sister, Miss Fannie Fearington, of Bynum, to Mr. W. H. Turner, manager of the Wachovia Flouring Mills of Salem The ceremony will be performed at the home of the bride on next Wednesday Miss Fearington has friends in this city who extend their best wishes and congratulations.

It is the business policy of the Provident Savings to give the assured their insurance at the lowest possible cost to them, instead of building up a monumental surplus, in which they do not participate, but for the possible benefit of those who never contribute to it--The Journal of Commerce, New York City, August 21st, 1899.

ATTEMPT AT FORGERY.

J. H. Cook Failed to Get Money on a Bogus Check.

J. H. Cook, a young white man who has been in Greensboro for several days, having recently been released from the county road force, is in trouble again.

He has been doing some work for James Yates, the tinner, and a few days ago Mr. Yates gave him a check for $2 00, which Cook had cashed.

On last Saturday the latter decided he was short of pocket change and in order to obtain the same wrote a check for $11 50 and signed Mr. Yates' name to it. He visited several of our merchants Saturday evening and requested them to cash the check, but as it was not stamped, Mr. D H Collins, of Shrier's shoe store, suspicioned crooked work and reported the matter to the police, who ascertained that the check was not issued by Mr. Yates.

It seems that Cook was very bold in his work, for after calling on Mr Collins be secured a stamp and then presented the check to Policeman Jeffries and Cates with a request that they cash it, but these officials were either out of money or were suspicious

Later Officer Cates found out that the check was illegal and began a search for Cook, finding him on South Elm street. Cook was arrested and placed in jail to await a hearing before Mayor Taylor at 4 o'clock this afternoon.

When Officer Cates approached Cook on South Elm the latter dropped the check to the ground, but it was picked up by some one and handed to the officer.

Sent to the Roads.

Ed and Arthur Orrell, who were convicted of house-breaking at the spring term of superior court, and who left these parts while their appeal was pending, returned to Greensboro this morning. Deputy Sheriff W. J. Weatherly this morning arrested and lodged them in jail They were sent out to join the county road force this afternoon. They are sentenced to twelve months.

Alf. Mabry, of Lexington, wat arrested here Saturday by Deputy Sheriff Weatherly. He has been jumping bond required on account of an affray. Mabry furnished bail Saturday night and was released.

The Tent Meeting.

Evangelists C. C. Cecil and J. W. Hypes, of Salem, Va., began a sanctification meeting in Greensboro Saturday night The services are held in a tent which has been erected on the vacant lot, corner of South Elm and Lewis streets. Services will be held daily at 11 a. m., 3 p. m. and 7:30 p. m. Large crowds were attracted to the meetings yesterday, and last night the tent was filled to overflowing.

Among the leading Life Insurance companies showing marked increases this year, the Provident Savings is in the front rank. It is making large gains over last year, its new business during the past three months being over one hundred per cent in excess of the same period last year —Journal of Commerce, New York City, August 2, 1899.
